A box of watercolours, or tubes.

Colours- Prussian blue* or Intense blue*, Cobalt blue*, ultramarine blue, alizarin crimson*, cadmium red, permanent rose*, lemon yellow*, cadmium yellow*, Gamboge yellow, burnt umber*, burnt sienna, yellow ochre*, viridian green.

I've * colours that are often used.

Most watercolour sets will also have enough colours (12 in a small box) plenty to start with.

A3 Cartridge Pad (180gsm or heavier weight) watercolour pad, Bockingford (Not too rough) size of choice. Also Clairefontaine have a Multi-media pad, various sizes, A3 works well.

These pads are available in grey, buff, or multi coloured papers. Size of choice. Pastel paper (individual sheets or a pad with various tints) is a great option also.

Brushes, 12 or 14, Round for watercolour (Daler-Rowney, Aqua Fine range are good quality)

I often use a Daler 18 Round for demos. Very versatile

Sables are great for watercolour but for any ink work I would suggest synthetic brushes or Chinese brushes which come individually or sets of three.

Please also bring any brushes you already have.
